DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 and 3-26 are currently pending in the instant application. Claim 2 has been canceled.

Examiner's Statement of Reason for Allowance

2. Claims 1 and 3-26 are allowed over the prior art of record.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The claims, filed on 12/26/2008 have been carefully reviewed and searched. The prior art of record to U.S. Pat. 5,229,037 (Nakano), U.S. Pat. 6,339,127 (Miyatake), or U.S. Pat. 6,380,301 (Enami) failed to suggest or disclose the composition as recited in claim 1. Specifically, the prior arts alone or in combination failed to suggest or disclose an electrically conductive silicone rubber composition comprising of (E) 5 to 500 parts by weight of spherical silicone rubber particle with a surface active agent content of greater than 0 but not more than 0.3 wt %. Moreover, the prior art of record does not provide a motivation to modify the spherical silicone rubber particle to contain a surface active agent in an amount of greater than 0 but not more than 0.3 wt % as claimed.

The best new prior art to U.S. Pat. 5,521,245 (Hirabayashi et al.) teaches a rubber compound comprising (A) an organopolysiloxane having at least two alkenyl groups in a molecule and (B) reinforcing silica powder is blended with (C) silicone elastomer particles obtained by reacting an organohydrogenpolysiloxane with a vinyl group-containing organopolysiloxane such that the molar ratio of $\equiv\text{SiH}$ group to –

CH=CH₂ group ranges from 1.2 to 5 and (D) a platinum catalyst to form a silicone rubber composition which cures into a product having high rubber strength despite the inclusion of silicone elastomer particles. However, U.S. Pat. 5,521,245 failed to suggest or disclose said composition comprising of (E) 5 to 500 parts by weight of spherical silicone rubber particle with a surface active agent content of greater than 0 but not more than 0.3 wt % and (D) 300 to 5,000 parts by weight of a metal based electrically conductive filler. Therefore, claims 1 and 3-26 are allowed over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
